HONGKONG, WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 13, 1893.

THE CHIEF JUSTICE AND BILLS

OF COSTS.

His Honour Mr. FIELDING CLARKE, Chief

Justice of Hongkong, has done the colony good service in various ways since his arrival in 1888. The law courts had for profession were practically masters of the situation, and through the indifference or supineness of the old-time judges had the monopoly of a hunting ground which yielded rich harvests. Mr. Justice CLARKE lost no time in commencing a crusade against abuses which had become a public scandal, and slowly but surely the work of reform has progressed. It can hardly be said that the Augean stable has been thoroughly cleansed, or that crying evils in connection with the administration of Justice do not now exist; but an excellent start has been made, and improvements in many respects are already patent. Shortly after his arrival Mr. CLARKE expressed great surprise that no recognised scale of costs existed; in drawing out bills of costs the solicitor charged whatever he thought proper, subject of course to revision by the taxing master, so that a litigant was actually groping in the dark as to the financial responsibilities he was undertaking for legal assistance. There is no reason why the public should not have the prices of litigation in its several branches marked in plain figures like the goods in an ordinary store, and recognising the advantages of this system to litigants the Chief Justice has lately drafted a set of rules, under section 24 of The Supreme Court Ordinance, No. 12 of 1873, for the taxing of costs in the Summary Jurisdiction Court, which was revised and approved by the Legislative Council on the 5th inst. and will come into force on the 1st January, 1894, applying only to actions and other proceedings brought and commenced on or after that date. As an introduction the Chief Justice lays it down that—

1. In the following Rules the expressions "exceeding" and "not exceeding" refer to the case of a plaintiff to the amount recovered and in the case of a defendant to the amount claimed.

2. In actions or proceedings other than those for the recovery and in actions where claims for the recovery of money are joined with other claims, the Judge having regard to the value and nature of the subject matter of the action or proceeding, shall direct under which of the scales hereinafter set forth the costs (if any) shall be taxed.

3. Notwithstanding anything in these Rules to the contrary, the Judge, if of opinion that the action or proceeding is of such importance to some class or body of persons, or of general or public interest, may award costs under Scale IV to the Plaintiff on any amount recovered, however small, or to the Defendant who successfully defends an action brought for any amount, however small; and in actions other than those for the recovery of a debt or liquidated demand in money the Judge, if he shall think that the preparation or conduct of the case has involved unusual trouble or difficulty or for other good cause shown, may, in awarding costs, direct that they shall be taxed on any scale higher than that hereinafter made applicable.

4. Subject as aforesaid no costs shall be allowed in actions not exceeding $10, and in other actions costs shall be taxed and allowed in accordance with the following scales as well between Solicitor and client as between party and party. Provided that where a client shall have paid or agreed to pay a sum of money for the conduct of any suit or proceeding, or has agreed to pay costs and charges beyond those provided for in these Rules, the taxing officer may, as between Solicitor and client, allow any costs or charges not exceeding the amount which may have been paid or agreed to be paid.

5. Occasional costs shall only be allowed where from the nature of the case it was reasonable and necessary that they should be incurred.

6. In awarding the costs of any action or proceeding the Judge may, at the hearing, for good cause shown, disallow the cost of any particular matter in connection with such action or proceeding.

7. These Rules shall come into force on the 1st day of January, 1894, and shall apply only to actions and other proceedings brought and commenced on or after that date.

Supreme Court House,

Victoria, Hongkong, 24th November, 1893.

Revised and approved of by the Legislative Council, this 5th day of December, 1893.

ARTHUR SMITH, Clerk of Council.

Council Chamber, Hon. Kong.

The value of the above scale of fees to litigants can scarcely be over-estimated, and its publication, if it does nothing else, can only tend to make them think twice before risking $40 in costs to recover $10.50; $203 to recover $5; $596 to recover any amount over $200; and $874 to recover anything between $500 and $1,000. Space will not permit us to-day to analyse the various charges adopted by Mr. FIELDING CLARKE and compare them with the costs previously allowed by the Registrar in similar cases, but as we are the happy possessor of an extensive and varied assortment of bills of costs, the result of a lengthy and somewhat expensive experience in the local law courts, we propose, when space and time permit, to publish a selection of these interesting documents for public information.

CANVASSING.

A few days ago, when the applications for the post of acting Sanitary Superintendent and Secretary to the Sanitary Board had been sent in, and were supposed to be undergoing the process of impartial judgment, one of the candidates approached an unofficial member of the Board, evidently labouring under the delusion that the appointment might possibly depend to some extent on that hybrid body's opinions. The candidate therefore proceeded to ask the member's good offices in securing a fair judgment on his merits, but was cut short by the Representative of the People with a stern rebuke, based on the theory that "canvassing" for appointments is iniquitous. The amount of righteous indignation which was poured out by this tribune populi was so great as to utterly crush the shrinking suppliant, who meekly begged pardon for the attempted outrage, and at once crawled back into his shell. Virtue triumphant!

But another candidate fared better. He enlisted the sympathies or something else of a venerable wire-puller who had no direct connection with the Government or the Board, except that he owns some property which ought to be looked after by the authorities: far more critically than has been the case. This philanthropist is always on the alert for doing good at any other's expense but his own; and so he gladly did his best to "work the cable" in favour of his protégé. An England woman have as yet no direct control over the Government, but they have an indirect influence which often seems quite as strong as if they had votes. Here the men have no votes, but the women have the influence just the same—when they care to use it. Now, this benevolent person has

An England woman have as yet no direct control over the Government, but they have an indirect influence which often seems quite as strong as if they had votes. Here the men have no votes, but the women have the influence just the same—when they care to use it. Now, this benevolent person has great power in that direction, and he used it. To explain the subtle details would be unchivalrous; it is enough to say that the feminine canvassers won the day, and the appointment—temporary, with a strong probability of becoming permanent—was given to a novice who has been only a few years out of school, and whose amateur efforts in the way of architecture constitute a standing joke among the P. W. D. overseers and coolies whom he will now have to direct.

Then a "strange thing happened," as Rider Haggard says; only that his books are full of noble deeds, while this was the reverse. When the appointment of the back-stairs favourite was notified to the Board, one member rose and protested against the undignified way in which the new secretary had been flashed on them; in fact, he moved a vote of censure on the Government. Of course the official members of the Board did not rally round him very much; it goes equally without saying that he was not greatly assisted by the Chinese member, who is hardly as much use as a punkah in a Siberian winter. There was one other member—the very same man who so sternly and conscientiously condemned the canvassing business. He knew all about it, and what did he do? Sat and smirked, and twiddled his thumbs under the table!

THE object of the Company is to form and maintain a factory in Yokohama for the Manufacture of Watches of all kinds and descriptions.

The founders of the Company are possessed of a plant of machinery complete in every particular, of the newest design and the finest workmanship, and adapted for the making of all implements used in the watch trade as well as the making of watches. It is well known that machinery has effected a complete revolution in the watch trade and it is confidently expected that by availing itself of the comparatively cheap labour of this country this Company will be able to supply the trade in all parts of the world with an article which for excellence of workmanship and cheapness of price will defy competition.

Mr. P. H. Wheeler, the Superintendent of the Company, has been for many years engaged in developing watch-making machinery, and the testimonials from his former employers testify to his business ability, skill, and integrity. The machinery of which the founders are possessed has been perfected under his superintendence and a considerable part thereof is of his invention.

Besides the Machinery, the founders are possessed of ten thousand watches in various stages of completion which are the outcome of the said Machinery; and material on hand sufficient to turn out about twenty-five thousand more. It will thus be seen that it is not an untried plant which the founders have acquired, but one which has already given proof of its excellence. It was only the advantage of obtaining a cheaper labour market than can be found in the United States that has induced them to work the business in Japan.

It is an established fact that the principal factories in the United States in seven years had 300 per cent. dividend on a capital of Six Million Dollars; and that was done on a wage basis of $1.50 (gold) per operative, the factories employing six thousand hands. If the difference in the rate of labour in this country is taken into consideration the operations of the Company will be assured to realise to the full the expectations of the founders. The profit of watch-making are based entirely on the price of labour.

It is not in the labour market only that an advantage will be obtained. Coal and other materials can be purchased in this country at a lower rate than in the United States. And besides all these advantages, which are great, there is one of still greater importance, the knowledge to be obtained of the requirements of the local trade, of the trade for China, and that of "The Straits" and India. The Company will be capable of supplying a watch of the best workmanship to the population of these large and important countries at a price far below any watch of like character that has ever been offered to these markets.

Taking into consideration these advantages the founders confidently expect to pay a dividend of at least 10 per cent. per annum on the first two years' work and thereafter dividends at a much higher rate.

The Company has been registered in Hongkong as a Limited Company.

The founders take and acquire 30,000 shares of the stock of the Company in payment for the machinery plant and stock and their labour and experience in preparing and procuring the machinery and stock.

Ten thousand shares of twenty-five yen each are offered for subscription.

The memorandum and articles of association of the Company may be inspected at the offices of the Company, No. 10 Bund, Yokohama.

Applications for shares should be made on forms annexed to the Prospectus and should be forwarded to the Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Corporation, accompanied by a remittance for the amount of the deposit.

Forms of application will be sent free to any person, by addressing the Head Office, 10 Bund, Yokohama.
